PASTORAL COUNSELING AND CRISIS INTERVENTION PAST 0741/COUN 0683

FALL 2009 THURSDAYS 8:30 – 11:45

INSTRUCTOR: HELEN NOH, PH.D 647-588-2975

Email: helensnoh@gmail.com
Office Hours: After class

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will provide an introduction to basic pastoral care within the context of the Christian church. At the heart of this ministry is the underlying assumption that we stand in relation not only to God but to one another. In the course, we will explore the nature of pastoral care from a biblical and theological perspective and discover different methodologies of caring and relational skills needed in pastoral care and in particular those situations of a crisis nature. This will be done with a view to providing significant care and intervention in problem areas that arise in ministry, as well as providing training for the laity so that they can engage in this ministry of care and compassion. Through lectures, readings, case studies and group discussions, the student will develop essential skills to be effective in this ministry. Cross-listed as COUN 0683. Offered annually.

PREREQUISITES: None

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the course, students should be able to:

- Develop a biblical, theological, and psychological paradigm of pastoral counseling within Christian ministry
- Acquire the ability to be self-reflective about countertransference issues which can influence and impact the dynamics of the counseling relationship
- Learn and utilize foundational counseling skills and basic framework for shortterm, structured pastoral counseling through experiential training using classroom setting

- Identify the nature of commonly encountered crisis situations as well as develop the necessary interventions to be effective in ministering to people in such situations
- Formulate an understanding and apply spiritual resources such as prayer,
 Scripture, and the community of faith as appropriate aspects of pastoral care and counseling

III. COURSE REQUIREMENTS

C. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

1. Class Participation and Reading Log: 10 % of final grade

Student participation and completion of required reading will be graded on a scale out of 10. Readings are expected to be completed before the beginning of each class in order to facilitate and engage in discussion and interaction with the material during class lectures. A reading log will be handed in at the end of the semester, in which students will give an honest evaluation of their level of engagement, participation and completion of required readings.

2. Self Reflection Paper: Due on October 15, 2009; 20 % of final grade.

Students are expected to write and submit a self-reflection review of 5 pages in length. The assigned task is to provide a careful and insightful examination of possible countertransference issues that may impact and influence the counseling relationship using family genogram, personality profile, attachment patterns, and own experience of crises. In your self-reflection, clearly identify what these issues may be, the context in which they have developed, how they may impact the dynamics of the counseling relationship, and potential strengths and weaknesses to your role as a counselor. Finally, reflect upon how these issues have been or will continue to be explored so as to minimize their influence upon the counseling relationship.

3. Basic Counseling Skills Lab (2 parts): Due on Nov. 5 (Part I – 15%) AND Dec. 3 (Part II – 15%); 30 % of final grade

Students will work in pairs and triads throughout the semester to develop and enhance foundational intervention and counseling skills such as attending, active listening, empathy, probing, self-disclosure as they progress through the three basic phases of a short-term model of Christian/Pastoral Counseling. An evaluation of the progress will be annotated and evaluated by both the student and by other members of the group.

4. Final Paper: Due date: December 10, 2009; 40 % of final grade

This paper provides the student with the opportunity to research a particular human struggle or crisis that will likely be or has already been encountered in the context of ministry. Suggested topics include: loss and bereavement, trauma, abuse, physical illness, mental illness, suicide/suicidal ideations, marital conflict or divorce, substance dependencies, family crises, or a related subject approved by the instructor. The paper must include the following:

- Introduction and rational for the significance of this issue in the context of ministry
- Definition, description, symptoms or warning signs of the issue
- A well researched and critical reflection on the integration of a theological, psychological, and spiritual paradigm of Christian/Pastoral Counseling
- A recommended theoretical model of counseling interventions, methods, and goals for the particular issue
- Specific helping strategies for counselors in the ministry context
- Critical reflection on the role of spiritual resources, such as prayer,
 Scripture, and community of faith in the context of Christian/Pastoral counseling, and in particular, the present issue

Students are expected to produce a well-researched, academically rigorous, Master's level paper drawing from the psychological and counseling literature, in addition to Christian ministry resources. The paper should present not only a concise summary of salient issues, perspectives, and supported research findings in the literature, but also a critical and insightful appraisal of the literature from a Christian ministry perspective.

The paper is expected to be approximately 15-20 pages in length, double spaced, typed, densely corrected and correctly referenced using one of the standard academic reference styles (e.g., APA, Chicago).

D. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK

Students should consult the current Academic Calendar for academic polices on Academic Honesty, Gender Inclusive Language in Written Assignments, Late Papers and Extensions, Return of Assignments, and Grading System. The Academic Calendar is posted at www.tyndale.ca/seminary/calendar. An excerpt is attached with this syllabus for easy reference.
