Dr. Eugene Peterson
Eugene H. Peterson is professor emeritus of spiritual theology at Regent College, Vancouver. Among his many books are Practice Resurrection, Under the Unpredictable Plant, Working the Angles, Five Smooth Stones for Pastoral Work, and the popular contemporary Bible translation The Message.

Rev. Dr. Liz Carmichael
The Rev. Dr. Liz Carmichael is currently Chaplain and Tutor in Theology at St John’s College, Oxford. Originally training as a medical doctor in Oxford and London, she interned in Newfoundland and Labrador before heading for Soweto, South Africa where from 1975 to 1981 she experienced the anti-apartheid struggle, became part of a wide Sowetan network, and married a prominent Anglican priest. Back in Oxford, she gained a first-class BA in Theology and wrote her doctorate on Christian love (agape) as friendship-love down the ages. Liz was ordained in Johannesburg in 1992, worked in spirituality and theological education, and was decorated by the Queen for peacebuilding work under the National Peace Accord during South Africa’s transition to democracy. Her book Friendship: Interpreting Christian Love (T&T Clark, Continuum) was published in 2004.

Dr. Paul Wadell
Dr. Paul Wadell is a Professor of Religious Studies at St. Norbert College in De Pere, Wisconsin. A native of Louisville, Kentucky, he received his Ph.D. from the University of Notre Dame, his Master of Divinity and M.A. in theology from Catholic Theological Union, and his B.A. from Bellarmine University in Louisville. He is the author of several books, including Friendship and the Moral Life; Becoming Friends: Worship, Justice, and the Practice of Christian Friendship; and Happiness and the Christian Moral Life: An Introduction to Christian Ethics. A book co-authored with Patricia Lamoureux, The Christian Moral Life: Faithful Discipleship for A Global Society, is to be published by Orbis Press in Fall 2010. He has also published many articles on Christian morality and spirituality, and given lectures and workshops on aspects of the Christian moral life. Paul and his wife Carmella live in Green Bay.
Rev. David J. Wood

David J. Wood is an ordained American Baptist currently serving a church in Glencoe, Illinois. He's previously pastored churches in Maine and Paris. He has been Associate Director of the Louisville Institute and as the Coordinator of the Lilly-Sponsored Transition into Ministry Program, which focuses on recent seminary graduates as they make their journey from classroom to congregation.

Maria Garriott

In 1981, Maria Garriott and her husband Craig moved into an at-risk Baltimore, Maryland, neighborhood to plant a multi-ethnic, socio-economically diverse church committed to ministries of Word and deed. Faith Christian Fellowship’s ministries now include a non-tuition-based Christian school, after-school tutoring, and sports programs. Maria’s poetry and essays have appeared in The Christian Century, BreakPoint World View, The Baltimore Sun, Urban Mission Journal, and other markets. She is the author of a memoir, A Thousand Resurrections, and serves on staff with Parakaleo, a ministry supporting church planting couples. Maria and Craig are parents of four adult children and a twelve-year-old.

Dr. Arthur Boers
