The mission of Tyndale Seminary is to provide Christ-centred graduate theological education for leaders in the church and society whose lives are marked by intellectual maturity, spiritual vigour and moral integrity, and whose witness will faithfully engage culture with the Gospel.

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course considers the influence of gender and socio-economic factors in relation to the development and practice of psychological theories in general, and the theories and practice of marriage and family therapy in particular. Emphasis is also given to the student's personal reflection in terms of both gender and socio-economic awareness and its influence on his or her understanding of family systems.

Prerequisites: COUN 0574 and COUN 0674 or equivalent. Otherwise, permission of the instructor is required.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

1. Distinguish and articulate the influence of gender and socioeconomic status on personal and professional development.

2. Demonstrate an understanding of how gender and socioeconomic status may impact the therapeutic relationship with counseling clients who may have similar or unique experiences of gender and socioeconomic status
3. Demonstrate an awareness of the role of gender and socioeconomic status in the development and maintenance of family systems.

CRPO COMPETENCIES ADDRESSED:

- 1.1.3 Integrate knowledge of the psychological significance of various kinds of human development, such as spiritual, moral, social, emotional, cognitive, behavioural, sexual, gender, and biological development.
- 1.4.1 Integrate knowledge of the impact of the therapist's self on the therapeutic process.
- 1.4.2 Recognize how the therapist's values and attitudes, both in and out of awareness, may impact diverse clients.
- 1.5.1 Recognize how oppression, power and social injustice may affect the client and also the therapeutic process. Recognize barriers that may affect access to therapeutic services.
- 1.5.2 Adapt the therapist's approach when working with culturally diverse clients, using culturally-relevant resources.

C. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

1. Self-Reflection Paper – Socioeconomic Status: Due on Thursday, October 10, 2019 @ 23:59 EST. (25% of final grade)

Each student will submit a 4 page paper (excluding title page) on their personal reflection in regard to socioeconomic status. Simplistically, with this paper the student is attempting to answer the question “How has SES contributed to who I am, what I believe, and how I will counsel”? The content of this paper should clearly exhibit higher order thinking, in other words, a simple description of socioeconomic beliefs, roles, or events will not meet the standard of graduate level work required for this paper. This paper is a personal reflection on the student’s experience of SES in significant areas of their life such as family of origin, work or church and should also consider how their experience of SES might impact them as counsellor. Meaning and interpretation are more significant than events and a consideration of one’s own possible biases and blind spots is especially important. References are not required. APA format is required.

2. Self-Reflection Paper - Gender: Due on Thursday, November 7, 2019 @ 23:59 EST. (25% of final grade)

Each student will submit a 4 page paper (excluding title page) on their personal reflection in regard to gender. Simplistically, with this paper the student is attempting to answer the question “How has gender contributed to who I am, what I believe, and how I will counsel”? The content of this paper should clearly exhibit higher order thinking, in other words, a simple description of gender beliefs, roles, or events will not meet the standard of graduate level work required for this paper. This paper is a personal reflection on the student’s experience of gender in significant areas of their life such as family of origin, work or church and should also consider how their experience of gender might impact them as counsellor. Meaning and interpretation are more significant than events and a consideration of one’s own possible biases and blind spots is especially important. References are not required. APA format is required.

3. Final Paper OR Class Presentation

Final Paper: Gender or Socioeconomic Topic with a Counselling Focus. Due Thursday, December 5, 2019 @ 23:59 EST (40% of final grade).

Students will submit an 8 page paper (excluding title page and reference page) on a topic directly related to gender or socioeconomic status. The topic of this paper must engage either SES or gender in relation to counselling or counselling theory and should be primarily research based. All topics for the final paper must be prior approved by the instructor on or before November 7, 2019. The content of this paper should clearly exhibit a scholarly effort to interact with, challenge and be challenged by the current thinking on the topic, in other words, it must include an analysis and evaluation rather than just a survey of the chosen topic. The paper must include citations and a reference page. APA format is required.

Class Presentation: Gender or Socioeconomic Topic with a Counselling Focus. Student presentations will take place in class on Thursday, December 5, 2019. The presentation must be received by the instructor via email by 23:59 on Wednesday, December 4, 2019.

N.B. There is the opportunity for up to four (4) students to do a class presentation instead of a final paper. Students wishing to do a presentation must inform the instructor by November 7, 2019. All other students will do a final paper. If more than four students wish to do a presentation, students doing a presentation will be chosen by lottery. If a lottery is necessary it will take place on November 7, 2019.

Students will make a 30 minute in-class presentation on a topic related to gender or socio-economic status in counselling. The topic of the presentation must engage either SES or gender in relation to counselling or counselling theory and should be primarily research based. All topics for the class presentations must be prior approved by the instructor on or before November 7, 2019. The content of this presentation should clearly exhibit a scholarly effort to interact with, challenge and be challenged by the current thinking on the topic, in other words, it must include an analysis and evaluation rather than just a survey of the chosen topic. The presentation must include citations and a reference section. The student will present their topic in front of the class (30minutes) and be prepared to answer questions from both the instructor and fellow students (5 minutes).

4. Completed readings/counselling Integration Report: Due Thursday, December 5, 2019 @ 23:59 EST. (10% of final grade)

Students will complete the required readings self-assessment. As well, each student will submit a one page double spaced reading/counselling integration for each of the three required books. This paper will answer the question “what concept in this book will enhance my psychotherapeutic practice and how will it do so?”

D. EQUITY OF ACCESS

Students with permanent or temporary disabilities who need academic accommodations must contact the Accessibility Services at the Centre for Academic Excellence to register and discuss their specific needs. New students must self-identify and register with the Accessibility Office at the beginning of the semester or as early as possible to access appropriate services. Current students must renew their plans as early as possible to have active accommodations in place.

E. SUMMARY OF ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

Evaluation is based upon the completion of the following assignments:

Assignment	Value	Due Date
Self-reflection paper – Socio-Economic Status	25%	October 10, 2019
Self-reflection paper – Gender	25%	November 7, 2019
Gender/SES class presentation OR Gender/SES final paper	40%	Due: Dec. 4, 2019 Presentation: Dec. 5 December 5, 2019
Assigned Reading/Counselling Integration	10%	December 5, 2019
Total Grade	100 %

F. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK

Your work should demonstrate the following characteristics:

Papers and presentations must be submitted by email in a “MS Word” document as an attachment to dcolpitts@tyndale.ca. No emailed documents contained in the cloud will be accepted. No hard copies will be accepted. No pdf documents will be accepted. Each paper must be received by 23:59 EST on the due date while each presentation must be received by 23:59 EST on the day before the presentation or late penalties will apply. The late penalty is a 10% deduction for the first day or part of a day after the due date and a 1% deduction for each day or part of a day thereafter. With the exception of “extreme and extenuating circumstances”, no papers will be accepted two weeks after the due date.

If there are some significant, unusual and unpredictable circumstances which prevent you from getting your assignment in on time, please complete the REQUEST FOR EXTENSION DUE TO EXTREME CIRCUMSTANCES form found at the end of this syllabus, specifying the nature of these circumstances and submit it to the instructor by the due date for that assignment. All assignments must be completed and submitted in order to receive a credit in this course.

Please take note that written submitted work must be presented in APA format. Each work submitted must be in a Times New Roman 12 font, 1 inch margins for top, bottom, right and left sides of each page; double spaced text in the body of the paper; single spaced references with a double space between each new reference. Marks may be deducted for the failure to follow appropriate APA formatting. As well, please note that the final paper/presentation must include a reference section. The reference section will include only those sources which are cited in the body of the paper. Any source that was researched for the paper but not cited should not appear in the reference section. For further information on APA format please reference: American Psychological Association. (2006). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). Washington, DC: Author.

Academic Integrity

Integrity in academic work is required of all our students. Academic dishonesty is any breach of this integrity, and includes such practices as cheating (the use of unauthorized material on tests and examinations), submitting the same work for different classes without permission of the instructors; using false information (including false references to secondary sources) in an assignment; improper or unacknowledged collaboration with other students, and plagiarism. Tyndale University College & Seminary takes seriously its responsibility to uphold academic integrity, and to penalize academic dishonesty.

Students are encouraged to consult writing resources.

Students should also consult the current Academic Calendar for academic policies on Academic Honesty, Gender Inclusive Language in Written Assignments, Late Papers and Extensions, Return of Assignments, and Grading System.

Research Ethics

All course-based assignments involving human participants requires ethical review and approval by the Tyndale Research Ethics Board \(REB\). Check with the Seminary Office (Room B302; aau@tyndale.ca) before proceeding.

G. COURSE EVALUATION

Tyndale Seminary values quality in the courses it offers its students. End-of-course evaluations provide valuable student feedback and are one of the ways that Tyndale Seminary works towards maintaining and improving the quality of courses and the student’s learning experience. Student involvement in this process is critical to enhance the general quality of teaching and learning.

Before the end of the course, students will receive a MyTyndale email with a link to the online course evaluation. The link can also be found in the left column on the course page. The evaluation period is 2 weeks; after the evaluation period has ended, it cannot be reopened.

Course Evaluation results will not be disclosed to the instructor before final grades in the course have been submitted and processed. Student names will be kept confidential and the instructor will only see the aggregated results of the class.
