I. COURSE DESCRIPTION
Protestant Spiritual Traditions is a team-taught, comparative study of Reformed, Anglican, Anabaptist/Baptist, Methodist, and Pentecostal/Charismatic traditions of spirituality. This course benefits from the participation of professors who are experts in their field and representatives of the traditions under study. The course will introduce students to the main themes, distinctive emphases and contemporary contributions of five major Protestant spiritual traditions.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES
At the end of the course, students should be able to:
• Gain familiarity with each tradition’s key thinkers, texts and resources;
• Understand the historical context for major Protestant traditions;
• Grasp each tradition’s central themes and distinctive emphases;
• Gain exposure to practices of liturgy, prayer and worship in each tradition;
Develop an appreciation for each tradition’s contemporary relevance and contribution to the global body of Christ;

Explore classical resources for spiritual growth;

Develop skills in critical thinking while discussing issues of spirituality; and Reflect critically upon one’s participation in one’s own tradition in light of the course.

III. COURSE REQUIREMENTS
A. REQUIRED TEXT:
ISBN080912761X, 9781579105518
A collection of primary and secondary readings on each tradition will be available on the course resource page: http://classes.tyndale.ca. Each professor will supply a select bibliography pertaining to the particular tradition.

B. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING
1. Attendance and participation is important; please be prompt for class.

2. Papers (18% x 5 = 90% of Final Grade)
There are five papers of approximately 2000 words per paper on a topic assigned by each professor: 18% per paper. Due date is two weeks following the class lecture (unless stipulated otherwise by the instructor). Each paper is to be submitted through the class Moodle.

3. Church Visitation and Theological Reflection Paper (10% of Final Grade)
Due: March 25, 2016 (submit via the class Moodle)
Each student is required to attend a worship gathering of one of the traditions studied in the course. It is to be liturgically different from her/his own denomination, and preferably one with which the student is least familiar. Write a four page paper containing two sections:

   a. A Subjective Response: How was God portrayed in the service? What was the ‘feel’ of the service and the congregation? What struck you about the architecture of the building? The order of service?

   b. A Theological Reflection: How did the service reflect the history and theology of the denomination? How did the sermon reflect the ethos of the denomination?

C. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK
For proper citation style, consult the Chicago-Style Quick Guide (Tyndale e-resource) or the full edition of the Chicago Manual of Style Online, especially ch. 14. For citing scripture texts, refer to sections 10.46 to 10.51 and 14.253 to 14.254.

Academic Integrity
Integrity in academic work is required of all our students. Academic dishonesty is any breach of this integrity, and includes such practices as cheating (the use of unauthorized material on tests and examinations), submitting the same work for different classes without permission of the instructors; using false information (including false references to secondary sources) in an assignment; improper or unacknowledged collaboration with other students, and plagiarism. Tyndale University College & Seminary takes seriously its responsibility to uphold academic integrity, and to penalize academic dishonesty.

Students should consult the current Academic Calendar for academic policies on Academic Honesty, Gender Inclusive Language in Written Assignments, Late Papers and Extensions, Return of Assignments, and Grading System. The Academic Calendar is posted at http://tyndale.ca/registrar.

E. COURSE EVALUATION

Tyndale Seminary values quality in the courses it offers its students. End-of-course evaluations provide valuable student feedback and are one of the ways that Tyndale Seminary works towards maintaining and improving the quality of courses and the student’s learning experience. Student involvement in this process is critical to enhance the general quality of teaching and learning.

Before the end of the course, students will receive a MyTyndale email with a link to the online course evaluation. The evaluation period is 2 weeks; after the evaluation period has ended, it cannot be reopened.

Course Evaluation results will not be disclosed to the instructor before final grades in the course have been submitted and processed.

IV. COURSE SCHEDULE AND READINGS

Required Readings: Read the chapter in the Senn text prior to the class on which that tradition is being presented, along with the readings and sources posted by the instructors (at their option and choice) to be found on the course resource page: http://classes.tyndale.ca
