I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course (following on NEWT 0523) is designed to bring students with an elementary knowledge of Koine Greek to the point where they can comfortably use the Greek text of the New Testament as the basis for their regular study and teaching. Students will expand their working Greek vocabulary and deepen their grasp of Greek grammar so that they can read the New Testament fluently with the help of a standard reading guide. These language skills will be developed in the process of actually interpreting extended excerpts from the New Testament, so that students become comfortable with using Greek in real life contexts and expand their repertoire of interpretive approaches at the same time. In this second term, less emphasis will be placed on review of morphology and more emphasis placed on reading longer Greek passages.

Prerequisites: NEWT 0523, BIBL 0501

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

1. Translate Galatians with the help of a lexicon and a reference grammar, making only a few scattered errors;
2. Successfully analyze most of the grammar and syntax in actual New Testament sentences. About 7.5 times out of 10, students should be able to:
 - a. successfully parse a familiar Greek word;
 - b. provide an accurate gloss for a common Greek word (occurring 10 times or more in the NT);
 - c. accurately identify the principal parts of a common irregular verb in the NT;
 - d. accurately identify the role of a participle, genitive phrase, or dative phrase and translate it accordingly;
 - e. accurately identify and translate common syntactical structures such as a double accusative or infinitive clause.
3. Demonstrate proficiency in a range of methods for interpreting NT letters, showing how the fruits of each one helps to shape our understanding of the message of a passage:
 - a. use the BDAG or other lexicon to identify the sense of a word in context;
 - b. establishing the best text of a passage (textual criticism);
 - c. analyzing the epistolary situation of a letter and its relevance for interpretation;
 - d. analyzing the rhetoric of a section of prose;
 - e. using commentaries and other tools for uncovering relevant social/historical/cultural context.
4. Be proficient in using the Greek NT for sermon and teaching preparation:
 - a. be accustomed to reading Greek for theological and devotional content, not simply as a technical exercise;
 - b. show a deeper understanding of the hermeneutical challenges involved in moving between the text and our world.

D. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

Each student will be evaluated on the basis of the following assignments:

1. Weekly Translation and Exegesis: due weekly on weeks 2 to 12 (50% of final grade)

According to the course schedule (see Section IV below), the student will complete a translation of the assigned passage for that week and submit this as a Word or pdf document on the Friday prior to class (according to the schedule of due dates below). In addition to translating the relevant passage, the student will be required to answer various grammatical, syntactical and exegetical questions. This will include responding to class readings (course text and additional assigned readings). In addition to completing the written assignment the student is expected to attend the live-stream class where they should be prepared to answer questions on the text (translation, grammar and syntax) and participate in class discussion. The details of translation and exegesis assignment will be posted on the Moodle page each week along with a grading rubric.

2. Exegesis Paper or Sermon: Due on April 5, 2021 (50% of final grade)

Each student will complete a final paper on a chosen passage in Galatians. This should be a research paper or sermon based on a careful exegetical reading of the text, making use of their own translation and analysis along with good quality secondary sources (e.g., scholarly commentaries, journal articles, books, and essays). The paper can take either of the following forms:

- a) Exegetical Paper: this should be in the form of a research paper based on a particular exegetical question related to the chosen textual unit in Galatians. The paper should be a maximum of 15 pages according to the guidelines for submission of written work (see Section G below).
- b) Sermon: the sermon transcript should be 10 pages with end notes to explain significant exegetical decisions (including references to secondary sources). The sermon should give evidence of careful exegetical analysis of the text as well as demonstrating creative appropriation of the text in a contemporary context.

Additional details along with a grading rubric for this assignment will be provided at the beginning of the class and posted onto the course page.

E. EQUITY OF ACCESS

Students with permanent or temporary disabilities who need academic accommodations must contact the Accessibility Services at the Centre for Academic Excellence to register and discuss

G. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK

Written assignments are due on the dates indicated above and should be type written, double-spaced, 12 point font (preferably Times Roman; 10 point font for footnotes), and one inch margins. They should be uploaded onto the course page on Moodle (Word or pdf formats will be accepted). Late papers (if the portal is closed) can be emailed directly to the professor at the email address at the top of this syllabus. Please label the file with your name and assignment (e.g., John Smith research paper). The deadline for submission is midnight on the due date.

It is expected that written work is submitted in a straightforward style of academic prose and demonstrates clear organization, argument and coherent thought. It ought to be free of spelling mistakes, punctuated correctly, and adhere to basic rules of grammar. Ensure that you have accurately and fully documented any secondary sources used in your paper (including footnotes and bibliography). If English grammar is challenging for you then you are expected to seek help (e.g. from the writing services of the Centre for Academic Excellence). Students are encouraged to consult Writing Services.

For proper citation style, consult the Chicago-Style Quick Guide (Tyndale e-resource) or the full edition of the Chicago Manual of Style Online, especially ch. 14. For citing scripture texts, refer to sections 10.44 to 10.48 and 14.238 to 14.241.

Academic Integrity

Integrity in academic work is required of all our students. Academic dishonesty is any breach of this integrity, and includes such practices as cheating (the use of unauthorized material on tests and examinations), submitting the same work for different classes without permission of the instructors; using false information (including false references to secondary sources) in an assignment; improper or unacknowledged collaboration with other students, and plagiarism.

Tyndale University takes seriously its responsibility to uphold academic integrity, and to penalize academic dishonesty.

Students are encouraged to consult Writing Services. Citation and other tip sheets.

Students should also consult the current Academic Calendar for academic policies on Academic Honesty, Gender Inclusive Language in Written Assignments, Late Papers and Extensions, Return of Assignments, and Grading System.

Research Ethics

All course-based assignments involving human participants requires ethical review and may require approval by the Tyndale Research Ethics Board \(REB\). Check with the Seminary Dean's Office (aa@tyndale.ca) before proceeding.

H. COURSE EVALUATION

Tyndale Seminary values quality in the courses it offers its students.
