

Course Syllabus
Direct Reading and Research (DRR) Course

Theology of the Human Person
THEO 0646

Fall 2014

Department of Theology
Tyndale Seminary
Instructor: The Reverend Dr V. Shepherd
416 226 6380 ext. 6726
Email: vshepherd@tyndale.ca

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course endeavors to acquaint students with the theology of the human person. It focuses on biblical and doctrinal issues that bear upon such questions as "What does it mean to be a human being?", "What is meant by the 'image of God'?", and "How is the Person of God related to the personhood of human beings?"

Prerequisite: Students must have completed Systematic Theology I & II (THEO 0521, 0522)

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the course, students should be able to:

- 1] to indicate how a proper understanding of God entails a proper understanding of humankind; i.e., that since theology discusses all of life under God, "theology" necessarily includes "theological anthropology";
- 2] to probe the relation of Christology to anthropology;
- 3] to indicate the manner in which the non-objectifiable "Thou" of God and the "thou" of the neighbor are determinants of the human;
- 4] to acquaint students with non-theological anthropologies that students may have absorbed implicitly or that different philosophies, psychologies and psychotherapies endorse explicitly;
- 5] to identify areas of convergence and divergence concerning social scientific and theological perspectives on the human person;
- 6] to investigate how gender specificity and gender complementarity are related to humanness;

7] to examine frequently misunderstood Christian notions (e.g., sin, evil, grace, providence, love, forgiveness) that pertain immediately to our understanding of the human and our attempts at relieving human distress.

III. COURSE REQUIREMENTS

A. REQUIRED READING:

Ray S. Anderson, On Being Human: Essays in Theological Anthropology (Fuller Seminary Press, reprinted 2000) ISBN 0-9602638-4-5

B. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADEING

1] Written Comment: worth 20% of final grade. Students will write a written comment on a novel, short story, poem or movie. The comment to reflect the student's integration of theology and psycho-social issues discussed in the item under review (700 words)

2] Essay: worth 40% of final grade. It must be 3000 -3500 words long on a topic selected from the list below or on a topic approved by the instructor.

3] A final examination: Worth 40% of your final grade.

Written Comment	20%
Essay	40%
Final Examination	40%
Total Grade	100%

D. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK

For proper citation style, consult the Chicago-Style Quick Guide (Tyndale e-resource) or the full edition of the Chicago Manual of Style Online, especially ch. 14. For citing scripture texts, refer to sections 10.46 to 10.51 and 14.253 to 14.254.

Academic Integrity

Integrity in academic work is required of all our students. Academic dishonesty is any breach of this integrity, and includes such practices as cheating (the use of unauthorized material on tests and examinations), submitting the same work different classes without permission of the instructors; using false information (including false references to secondary sources) in an assignment; improper or unacknowledged collaboration with other students, and plagiarism. Tyndale University College & Seminary takes seriously its responsibility to uphold academic integrity, and to penalize academic dishonesty.

IV. COURSE SCHEDULE, CONTENT AND REQUIRED READINGS

Lec.1	The Enlightenment and Its Understanding of the Human The Patristic "gift" of the person (Shepherd)
Lec. 2	Humanity under God (chapt. 1, On Being Human)
Lec. 3	Humanity as creaturely (chapt. 2)
Lec. 4	Humanity as determined by the Word of God (chapt. 3)
Lec. 5	Humanity as determined by the "other" (chapt. 4)
Lec. 6	Humanity as self-determined (chapt. 5)
Lec. 7	The image of God (chapt. 6)
Lec. 8	Human self-contradiction and eschatological resolution (chapt. 7)
Lec. 9 (chapt. 8)	Gender (specificity and complementarity) and its relation to the human
Lec. 10	The limits to the human creature: birth, historicity and death (chapt. 9)
Lec. 11	Apparent denials of the human (chapt. 10)
Lec. 12	Election, covenant, atonement -- and human authenticity (chapt. 11)
Lec. 13	Church community and worship -- and human affirmation (chapt. 12)
	Examination

Comment Topics

The understanding of the human in the fiction (novels and/or short stories) of any one of the following:

Hugh MacLennan, Roberston Davies, Brian Moore, Margaret Laurence, Margaret Atwood, Rohinton Mistry, Alice Munro, Iris Murdoch, John Updike, [or the writer of your choice.]

The understanding of the human in the work of any one major poet; e.g., Seamus Heaney, Margaret Avison, George Bowering [current Poet Laureate of Canada], Ted Hughes, Robert Frost, Andrew Motion [current Poet Laureate of U.K.], Billy Collins, Louise Glueck [current Poet Laureate of U.S.A.] (Please check with instructor.)

The understanding of the human in the work of one major lyricist; e.g., Bob Dylan, Leonard Cohen, Tom Waits.

The understanding of the human in the film(s) of your choice. (Please check with instructor.)

Essay Topics

A

1] theological comment on the humanness of severely mentally ill (i.e., psychotic) people, as well as on the humanness of those who react to them, in any one of the following:

- Girl, Interrupted* (Susanna Kaysen)
- The Professor and the Madman* (Simon Winchester)
- I Never Promised You a Rose Garden* (Hannah Green)
- Twilight* (Elie Wiesel)
- Is There No Place on Earth for Me?* (Susan Sheehan)
- The Bell Jar* (Sylvia Plath)
- I Know This Much is True* (Wally Lamb)

2] theological comment on the humanness of severely neurologically damaged people, as well as on the humanness of their helper, in any five patients discussed in Awakenings (Oliver Sacks.) [The “prologue” of Awakenings should also be read in conjunction with the case histories of the five patients.]

3] theological comment on the humanness of those suffering from Alzheimer’s Disease, together with that of their caregivers: Still Alice (Lisa Genova)
: Scar Tissue (Michael Ignatieff)

4] theological comment on issues pertaining to the understanding of the human in any one of the following:

- social-environmental stress: On the Beach (Neville Shute)
: Angela’s Ashes (Frank McCourt)
: Alias Grace (Margaret Atwood)
- stress born of dysfunctional communication: The Trial (Franz Kafka)
- stress with poor provision: In Cold Blood (Truman Capote)
: The Grapes of Wrath (John Steinbeck)

5] theological comment on the understanding of the human presupposed in social responses to stress in any one of the following:

- Asylums* (Erving Goffman)
- Lord of the Flies* (William Golding)

6] theological comment on the understanding of the human with respect to suicide:

- Night Falls Fast* (Kay Redfield Jamison) [This book is a work in social science.]

or

theological comment on issues surrounding suicide following bi-polar mood disorder:
Swing Low: A Life (Miriam Toews) [This book is biographical, a depiction of her father’s upbringing, domestic relationships, church and social environment, and psychiatric decline.]

7] theological comment on the understanding of the human as exemplified in community/institution/state-sanctioned violence: one of

Dead Man Walking (Helen Rejean)
Night (Elie Wiesel)
The House of the Dead (Fyodor Dostoyevsky)

- 8] a discussion of the imago Dei in any one of Augustine, Luther, Calvin, Melanchthon, Wesley, Barth, Brunner.
- 9] the relation of the hamartiological to the human through an investigation of any one of the traditional “Seven Deadly Sins”: pride, envy, anger, sloth, avarice, gluttony, lust.
- 10] the relation of the holy to the human through an investigation of any one of the traditional “saints”: e.g., Augustine, Teresa of Avila, Francis de Sales, Catherine of Siena, John of the Cross.
- 11] a discussion of the theological anthropology of Life Together (Dietrich Bonhoeffer).
- 12] the anthropology embodied in an exegesis of any one of Genesis 1&2, Genesis 3, Genesis 22, Psalm 25, Psalm 51, Psalm 103, Psalm 139, Ruth.
- 13] the theological anthropology evinced in the Anglican Book of Common Prayer.
- 14] theological discussion of the integration of the human and the sexual.
- 15] theological discussion of the anthropology exemplified in an individual’s response to social catastrophe (plague): Year of Wonders (Geraldine Brooks)
or personal catastrophe (paralysis): Under the Eye of the Clock (Christopher Nolan)
or relentless personal/natural evil: All the Little Live Things (Wallace Stegner.)
- 16] theological discussion of the determination of the human at the hands of institutions, ideologies, images and “isms”: An Ethic for Christians and Other Aliens in a Strange Land (William Stringfellow.)
- 17] theological discussion of the anthropology reflected in “spiritual direction” in one of Spiritual Friend (Tilden Edwards); Soul Friend (Kenneth Leech)
- 18] theological assessment of the challenge/threat to the human occasioned by “virtual reality”:
 e.g. The Extremes (Christopher Priest)
- 19] a comparison of Hellenistic and Hebraic anthropologies:
 e.g., Hebrew Thought Compared with Greek (Thorleif Boman.)
- 20] theological comment on the threat to the human posed by disinformation: Propaganda (Jacques Ellul.)
- 21] theological comment on the relation of the imaginative to the human: The Educated Imagination (Northrop Frye)

- 22] theo-anthropology in the context of depression: Darkness Visible: A Memoir of Madness (William Styron) and Malignant Sadness: The Anatomy of Depression (Lewis Wolpert.)
- 23] theo-anthropology in the context of bi-polar affective disorder [manic-depressive illness]
A Brilliant Madness: Living with Manic-Depressive Illness (Patty Duke and Gloria Hochman)
or
An Unquiet Mind (Kay Redfield Jamison)
- 24] theological reflection on the presence of bi-polar affective disorder among the culturally creative: Touched with Fire: Manic-Depressive Illness and the Artistic Temperament (Kay Redfield Jamison)
- 25] theological comment on the challenge to and triumph of the human amidst totalitarianism: e.g., One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich (Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn)
or
Ordinary Lives (Josef Skvorecky)
- 26] theological comment on the retention of the human amidst organ transplants and genetic engineering: e.g., The Human Body Shop: The Engineering and Marketing of Life (Andrew Kimbrell.)
- 27] theological comment on the nature and significance of the human in perpetrator and pardoner: e.g., The Sunflower: On the Possibilities and Limits of Forgiveness (Simon Wiesenthal)
- 28] theological comment on the “ordinary” human face of radical evil: e.g., Eichmann in Jerusalem: A Report on the Banality of Evil (Hannah Arendt)
- 29] theological comment on the latent anthropology in women’s (self-)victimization in love affairs: Labyrinth of Desire: Women, Passion and Romantic Obsession (Rosemary Sullivan) [non-fiction] Other Women (Evelyn Lau) [fiction]
- 30] theological exploration of the dimensions of the human reflected in the microcosm of a rural congregation: Open Secrets: A Spiritual Journey through a Country Church (Richard Lischer)
- 31] theological comment on the funeral director’s angle-of-vision on death and its aftermath: The Undertaking: Life Studies from the Dismal Trade (Thomas Lynch)
- 32] theological assessment of war-intensified human cruelty/complexity: e.g., Crimes of War (Peter Hogg) [fiction]
or
Wolfsangel: A German City on Trial 1945-1948 (August Nigro) [history]
or

Charlie Johnson in the Flames (Michael Ignatieff) [fiction]

or

March (Geraldine Brooks) [fiction]

33] theological comment on psychological resilience amidst betrayal and abandonment:

White Oleander (Janet Fitch)

34] theological comment on survivors of sexual violation (rape): Lucky (Alice Sebold)

35] theological comment on the multidimensionality/complexity of the human being: biological, psychological (including the pathological,) social, political, familial, spiritual: Bedlam (Greg Hollingshead)

36] theological comment on the psychological and spiritual anguish pertaining to the death of a child: The Blood of the Lamb (Peter DeVries)

37] theological comment on issues pertaining to self-willed human complication; e.g., marital infidelity and criminality: Adultery (Richard Wright)

or

The Pilot's Wife (Anita Shreve)

or

Fortune's Rocks (Anita Shreve)

or

Light on Snow (Anita Shreve)

38] theological comment on human complexity complicated by indecisiveness: A Prayer for the Dying (Steward O'Nan)

39] theological comment on the shrivelled humanness evident in religious fundamentalism: A Complicated Kindness (Miriam Toews)

40] theological comment on the complexity of intra-family dynamics and the ambiguities of fortuitous occurrences: Saturday (Ian McEwan)

or

Atonement (Ian McEwan)

or

After This (Alice McDermott)

41] theological comment on the "handicapped" person (deafness) and the "handicap" of "normalcy": Deafening (Frances Itani)

42] theological comment on the damage wrought by ambition:

All He Ever Wanted to Be (Anita Shreve)

43] theological comment on the religious issues apparent in the intersection of Jew, Christian and Muslim: The Terrorist (John Updike)

- 44] theological comment on a widow's grieving:
The Year of Magical Thinking (Joan Didion)
- 45] theological reflection on suffering. (The student should engage theologically Stanley Hauerwas, God, Medicine, and Suffering.)
- 46] theological interaction with and comment upon the work of a major existentialist thinker; e.g., The Fall or The Plague (Albert Camus)
- 47] theological interaction with and comment on (African-North American) slavery: e.g., The Book of Negroes (Lawrence Hill)
- 48] theological reflection on "the commonwealth of Israel...the covenants of promise...the broken wall of hostility...one new person in place of the two" (Eph. 2:14-16)
A Woman In Jerusalem (A.B. Yehoshua)
- 49] theological reflection on the ripple effect of sin:
Testimony (Anita Shreve)
- 50] theological comment on the complexities of sexual abuse in the church:
The Bishop's Man (Linden MacIntyre)

B

- 1] an exposition and critical assessment of one crucial aspect of any one psychological anthropology in the light of Christian anthropology:
e.g., Freud, Jung, Adler, James. (Please check with instructor.)
- 2] exposition and critical assessment of (an aspect of) any one philosophical anthropology in the light of Christian anthropology:
e.g., Plato, Stoicism, Aristotle, Plotinus, Aquinas, Occam, Biel, Descartes, Kant, Hegel, Marx, Sartre, Heidegger. (Please check with instructor.)
- 3] an exposition and critical assessment of the understanding of the human (or aspect thereof) in any one of Mediaeval Scholasticism, the Renaissance, the Enlightenment, Existentialism.

C

- 1] a discussion of the anthropology reflected in the "anti-psychiatry" movement (e.g., Thomas Szasz, MD, The Myth of Mental Illness -- pp. ix - 110, plus 204-220.)
[Note: there are now many psychiatrist-authored books and journal articles written from the standpoint of "anti-psychiatry." Please check with instructor. This topic is best addressed by students with formal medical training.]

- 2] an examination of the command and claim of God upon humans reflected in Fear and Trembling (Soren Kierkegaard.)
[Note: this topic should be attempted only by those who have been exposed to the philosophy of Georg Friedrich Hegel.]

- 3] an exposition of and comment on Persons In Communion: Trinitarian Description and Human Participation (Alan J. Torrance)
[Note: this topic is to be attempted only by the advanced student in theology who is acquainted with the theological subtleties of Barth and the Torrance echelon.]

- 4] a discussion of the “dialogical” in I and Thou (Martin Buber.)
[Note: this topic should be attempted only by those with more than elementary philosophical training.]

D

{a topic of the student’s choice, provided that the instructor has approved it.}