A Letter from the President

One of the blessings of studying at Tyndale University is the community. It is what makes Tyndale different. The experience of studying in a supportive Christian environment, where students are known and can explore life's questions with others on a similar path, offers assurance that you are never alone in your educational and faith journeys.

We believe Tyndale is a university where students are transformed in heart, mind and character and where graduates leave with a life-long love of learning, a deepened faith and values that will endure through all the changes they will experience. We want our students and graduates to flourish in the fullest sense: effective, resilient, and positively impacting others, able to adapt to challenges we cannot yet imagine.

At Tyndale, you will be encouraged and challenged by professors who are experts in their fields. You will gain interpersonal and academic skills that will prepare you for a constantly evolving culture. Your peers will include students from many denominations and diverse backgrounds, which – many of our students say – will open your mind to new ways of thinking and sharpen your ability to relate to people in various settings.

You will also experience care, not only for your spiritual and academic growth but also for who you are as a person. You will have access to support and counselling services to enhance existing strengths and interests or to sustain you when life gets hard. With small class sizes, you will have opportunities to share your viewpoints in a safe environment.

Our prayer, as well as our hope, is that by attending Tyndale University you will discover more about yourself, become fully equipped in your passions and find your place in an ever-changing world.

I invite you to join us.

Dr. Marjory Kerr

President & Vice Chancellor

"I loved the community. I lived on campus in my first year and then lived off campus with friends from residence. I loved that when I walked into the cafe, I almost always found friends. The class sizes were another huge perk. I got to know my profs and they got to know me. Through my entire education and even after graduation, I still know many of the faculty and staff - this was a huge benefit to my education."

Why Pursue Teaching at Tyndale?

1 Build Strong Literacy and Mathematics Foundations

While teacher education programs across Ontario have been shortened, Tyndale has kept every literacy and mathematics pedagogy course at full length. You will graduate knowing how to teach reading, writing, and mathematics to the diverse group of learners in your classroom, and build on what each learner already brings.

4 Practicum Options

Complete your first two practicum placements in your choice of nine public and Catholic school boards in the Greater Toronto and Hamilton Area. For your third practicum, choose to remain within the school board of your choice, or: Apply to complete Practicum 3 in an independent, faith-based, or alternative school. Apply to the Northern Placement Option, and complete three weeks of your teaching block in a First Nations community in northern Ontario.

2 Leave with More Than a Degree

Stand out as a new educator with an Additional Qualification (AQ) tailored to your passions and professional goals. Whether you choose Environmental Education, Special Education, or another area of interest, Tyndale makes it easy to build specialized expertise. As both an accredited teacher education program and AQ provider, Tyndale enables you to earn this valuable credential just after your degree is conferred, helping you enter the profession with recognized expertise and a clear professional focus.

5 Receive One-on-One Support

Your assigned faculty advisor will provide mentorship and guidance throughout your program. They will visit your practicum placement schools multiple times, and provide the support and encouragement you need to integrate the theory learned in courses with the practicalities of the classroom.

Teachers who pay attention to their own physical, mental, spiritual, and emotional health bring more of themselves to the classroom, and they notice the same dimensions in the students in front of them. Tyndale's BEd programs prepare you to become that kind of teacher, and encourage you to be a leader in your school community.

3 Learn to Teach Well and Stay Well

Every Tyndale teacher candidate completes a full-day certification in social and emotional learning. In the professional seminar course, which meets before and after each practicum teaching block, you focus on strategies for building emotional vocabulary and the social capital that can sustain a teacher throughout their career. Tyndale believes that a teacher's physical, mental, spiritual, and emotional health is part of what forms a teacher, and that shows up across your courses.

Learn More About Program Format and Schedule

6 Experience Faith-based Learning

Tyndale's teacher candidates are people of different backgrounds and faiths, including some who do not identify with any faith tradition. What you believe and value impacts who you are as an educator. Courses at Tyndale will provide an opportunity to consider your personal beliefs, including beliefs about students, learning, faith, and morals. You will reflect on how your beliefs shape who you are in the classroom, and how you can positively impact learners of different abilities, socio-economic status, race, language, faith, culture, gender, and sexual orientation.

7 Build Knowledge about Indigenous Peoples, Perspectives, and Experiences - Past and Present

Tyndale maintains relationships with several Indigenous community members, and Indigenous scholars visit almost every course you take, addressing course content from an Indigenous perspective. Upholding a commitment to Truth and Reconciliation is one of the professional standards you will be accountable to as an Ontario Certified Teacher, and Tyndale helps you do this work in relationship.

8 Flourish in a Supportive, Close-Knit Community

At Tyndale, meaningful connections are part of the everyday experience. With faculty offices just a short walk away, it's easy to drop in with a question or seek advice from a professor. Between classes, teacher candidates gather in the community kitchens to enjoy complimentary coffee, share meals, and collaborate on projects. Chapel services are held twice a week, and the chapel remains open throughout the day for prayer and reflection. In good weather, you can borrow one of the School of Education's picnic quilts and take your break under the trees by the ravine.

Tyndale is an independent, not-for-profit, trans-denominational institution that reviews its fee structure each year.

The cost of education is therefore subsidized by other income, including substantial donations from the Christian community.

Accreditation

Tyndale has undergone a number of iterations and name changes over the course of its more than 130 years of history. Its humble beginnings originated in 1894 as a Bible Training School in the Toronto area with 138 students from eight different denominations. Today, over 90 denominations and more than 60 ethnic backgrounds are represented among the student body in one of the most diverse cities in the world. As Tyndale grew, so did the vision to seek appropriate accreditation enabling students to carry out their God-inspired purpose.

Tyndale is dedicated to the pursuit of truth, to excellence in teaching, learning and research, for the enriching of mind, heart and character, to serve the church and the world for the glory of God.

Tyndale’s undergraduate education, rooted in the humanities, arts and sciences, seeks to deepen knowledge, cultivate wisdom and develop character to serve Christ and the world. In 2003, as the result of a vigorous and thorough review by the Post-secondary Education Assessment Board (PEQAB), and their recommendation to the Ministry of Colleges & Universities that Tyndale has the ability to meet or exceed the requirements of delivering undergraduate and seminary/graduate programs, Tyndale was granted authority to offer a Bachelor of Arts degree. More recently, following another robust review by PEQAB and their recommendation to the Ministry, in December 2020, Tyndale’s name was legally changed to Tyndale University by an act of legislation. The charter extended to embed the Bachelor of Education degree and offer new degrees including the Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA), the BBA with honours, and the Master of Arts degree.

As a recognized degree-granting institution, Tyndale grants Bachelor of Arts degrees, including Honours degrees in the arts, business administration and social sciences, under authority granted by the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.

Tyndale received initial consent from the Ontario Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities in 2007 and initial accreditation from the Ontario College of Teachers to offer a Bachelor of Education (BEd) program to prepare teachers for employment in primary, junior and intermediate divisions in 2008. Since then, Tyndale’s BEd program has been accountable to the regular review processes required by each regulatory body. Graduates of Tyndale’s BEd program are eligible for a Certificate of Qualification from the Ontario College of Teachers. The program has gained significant reputation, and teacher candidates are actively sought after. Offering a distinctive 16-month experience, teacher candidates are prepared for serving in the field of education through a collaborative community that includes seasoned professors and faculty advisors.

Tyndale Seminary was established in 1976 and has grown to become Canada’s largest seminary, offering a unique and wide-ranging educational experience. The Seminary is accredited by The Commission on Accrediting of The Association of Theological Schools (located at 10 Summit Park Drive, Pittsburgh, PA 15275, USA, www.ats.edu). Degree programs include Master of Arts (MA), Master of Divinity (MDiv), Master of Theological Studies (MTS), Master of Theology (ThM) and Doctor of Ministry (DMin). In compliance with accreditation standards, Tyndale Seminary engages in ongoing assessments of its educational effectiveness.

The MA and MDiv in Clinical Counselling programs are acknowledged by the College of Registered Psychotherapists of Ontario (CRPO) as recognized education and training programs for psychotherapists.

We Acknowledge

"For thousands of years the Greater Toronto Area has been the traditional land of the Huron-Wendat, the Seneca and, most recently, the Mississaugas of the Credit River. It is part of the 'Dish With One Spoon Territory,' a treaty between the Anishinaabe, Mississaugas and Haudenosaunee that committed them together to share the territory and protect the land. Other Indigenous Peoples and Nations have subsequently entered this territory in the spirit of peace, friendship and respect. It is on these lands, and in this spirit, that Tyndale seeks to engage in its work."

This land acknowledgment was developed specifically for Tyndale University in 2018, under the guidance of Elder Dr. Terry LeBlanc and in consultation with individuals from the Six Nations and the urban Indigenous community of the Greater Toronto Area.

We acknowledge that our campus is located on traditional Indigenous land, and those of us connected to this community gather, work and study in the context of this history. It is our privilege and responsibility to partner in the journey to reconciliation, sustaining a safe, welcoming and informed place of learning for everyone.
